

- 1) Boroughs — A card game in the style of Gwent, but instead of armies, your cards are buildings, people, and city services. You and an opponent play cards across three rows : Residential, Services, and People (a detective, a legendary firefighter, and so on. With those cards you score points against opponent's cards. Cards work together: a park makes nearby housing better, etc.

- 2) Rooftops — you're a courier who runs and jumps across the rooftops of a city to deliver packages on time. You chain together jumps, wall-runs, and zip-lines to keep your momentum and avoid touching the ground. It's all about finding a good route and moving smoothly.
